FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Day Is "Soul Searchin'" On New Album!

MESQUITE, Texas – Texas based trio New Day is proud to announce the release of the group's latest recording Soul Searchin'.

The new album was produced by Jessica Harrison (Hope's Call). Harrison has previously worked on recordings for the Jody Brown Indian Family, The Dills, and more. Soul Searchin' was engineered by Joe Carrell. Vocals were recorded at Daywind Studios in Hendersonville, Tennessee.

Pam Reeves of New Day said, "Words can no express just how excited we are to finally have this new album completed! We are so proud of it, and Jessica Harrison did such a fantastic job producing it!"

Soul Searchin' features instrumental work by some of the industry's leading session players such as David Huntsinger, Gary Smith, Ricky Free, Duncan Mullins, and Jeremy Medkiff

The new album also features brand new songs written by heavy hitting songwriters like Rebecca J. Peck, Tim Parton, John Robinson, and Dottie Rambo. Jessica Harrison also contributed to the songwriting efforts as well as group members Kelley Matthews and Pam Reeves.

The first single from the recording will be announced at a later date. The group currently has tracks from the new album streaming on their MySpace.

The group will also be hosting an album release concert in their hometown. Details for the concert will be announced later.
